

VISITING ATLANTA.

THE OHIO PARTY ARRIVED HERE YESTERDAY.

A Trip of Interest from Chattanooga Along the Battlefield—Their Departure Today.

The Ohio party is in Atlanta.

It arrived yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The party consisted of E. W. Merry, Frank M. Taylor, W. E. Wainwright, Frank Powell, F. A. Baldwin, L. Black, J. W. Canary, J. B. Newcomb, Joe Devlin, J. D. Bulle, W. O. Keeler, Frank Taylor, C. Rogers, Simon George, Fred Hartman, R. S. Parker, E. Boustock, C. B. Eberly, Alfred George, J. N. Powell, of Bowling Green; J. M. Thomas and wife, C. F. Heckler and wife, of Columbus; Mrs. Pond, of Paris; Miss McCullough, Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Boynton, of Dayton; William B. Ford, Miss Louise Ford, W. B. Cushing, of Chattanooga; Mrs. Pond, of Logan, O.; Mrs. Crook, Mrs. Pond, of Columbus; P. H. Murray, of Valdosta, Ga.; John E. Walker, of St. Paul, O.; William Pellinger, of Ventura; J. B. Porter, of Oklahoma; C. B. Molley, of McComb, George Turner, of Bushville; Captain E. W. Mason, of Pemberville; F. W. Johnston, of Cleveland; E. Young Garrett, S. B. Porter, of Columbus, O.

With them on their trip were Messrs. W. A. Fuller and Antony Murphy, who had accepted a special invitation from the commission and the Grand Army of the Republic.

The party left Chattanooga yesterday morning, where they had spent a pleasant time in connection with the unveiling of the monument to the Andrews' raiders, erected by an appropriation from Ohio.

Messrs. J. B. Porter, E. W. Merry and Judge Minshall, from the commissioners, appointed especially by Governor Campbell. The rest are accompanying them as interested Ohioans. The trip to Atlanta was made to allow them to see the country through which the celebrated raid and capture occurred.

Besides Mr. Murphy and Mr. Fuller, Messrs. Bensinger, Mason, Porter and Dorsey, who came along, are survivors of the participants in the muck-taken-of occurrence.

The train on the Western and Atlantic was a special one. The district passenger agents of the line were present, and Mr. Averill, Mr. Fuller and Mr. Murphy served as most efficient guides.

Stops on the route were numerous. At all the battlefields and places of interest the party took a thorough survey, spending considerable time at the more important points.

It was a journey affording the highest enjoyment to the ladies and gentlemen, and but for one or two unfortunate happenings the trip would have been perfect from a feature to mar the pleasure of the day.

Just as they were nearing Graysville, fifteen miles from Chattanooga, a gentleman of prominence was unable to drive a right wheel, which stood on the track. The train dashed into the buggy, killing the horse instantly, and injuring the man so that he died after a few minutes. It was a deplorable accident, and averted.

Further on the machinery in the engine broke, and a delay of some time was undergone.

Barring this the ride was one of the pleasantest that could have been desired.

The party will remain here until this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, when it leaves on its return trip. With the exception of Mr. E. W. Merry, not one has been in Atlanta since the war. Many were here then, Mr. Merry being severely wounded at Peachtree creek.

The evening was spent in delightful chats around the corridors at the Kimball, where all are stopping. No special programme has been arranged for their entertainment this morning.

A SUNDAY SHOOTING.

Two Restaurant Negroes Have a Difficulty in Macon.

MACON, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—This morning about 6 o'clock William Brantley and Richard Lewis, two negroes about twenty-one and twenty-three years old, respectively, had a difficulty in the city of Macon. Brantley was on Fourth street. Brantley acted as cook and Lewis was a waiter. Brantley shot Lewis twice in the breast with a .38-caliber pistol. The wounds were fatal, when in fact, it was reported at one time today that Lewis was dead. The wounds are not bleeding externally, and it is supposed they are bleeding internally. Lewis was carried to his home, and Brantley delivered himself up to Officer Mack and quietly went to the barracks. He claimed that Lewis provoked the difficulty. He thought that Brantley was endeavoring to have him discharged from Port's restaurant. Brantley says Lewis cursed him this morning and threatened to kill him and swore he would do so before night. Lewis commenced to advance on Brantley with knife and Brantley then shot him. Brantley denies that he wanted or endeavored to have Lewis discharged from the restaurant.

A MACON ROAD ENJOINED.

The Papers that Were Served by the Wrightsville and Tennesse Road.

MACON, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—The Macon and Dublin railroad was, by the Wrightsville and Tennesse road, enjoined from trespassing on their right on Marion street, Dublin, papers having been served last Friday afternoon. The Dublin Post says it came about in this way:

Some months ago the people of Dublin promised the Wrightsville and Tennesse free access to and through the town, and the town council gave the directors of the road about forty feet of Marion street, which left only fifteen feet for vehicles, etc. A few weeks ago the Macon and Dublin road, through its attorney, applied for right of way on the same street, and a deed was given them to all except twenty feet. It will be seen that the city authorities have given the same right of way, or a part of it, to two separate and distinct roads, which has resulted in an injunction being filed against the Macon and Dublin road. The hearing is set for June 8th, at Exton, before Judge Jenkins.

Honorably Acquitted.

WICHAM, Ga., May 28.—[Editorial.]—I am, by duty, secretary of the school board of trustees of this place to make the following statement in regard to the malicious and false charges made against Professor L. F. Shuford, who has been engaged as principal of the academy at this place the past year, and that he discharged his duty faithfully and well, and gave perfect satisfaction to the patrons, and I would further state that the criminal offense of which he has been charged, was instigated through malice and assumed the shape of a persecution instead of a prosecution of palpable wrongs. The facts that the jury was not five minutes in agreeing upon a verdict of acquittal.

JAMES C. BRASWELL, Clerk Board of School Trustees.

Under a Barrel of Roast.

ALBANY, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mr. Robert Palmer, an employee of the steamer City of Albany, reached the city Friday by the Savannah, Florida and Western train suffering from serious injuries received on board the steamer, while loading with roast at Robert's bluff. Mr. Palmer was in front of a barrel of roast which was letting roll down a sharp incline from the bank of the river to the boat, when, losing his hold upon the barrel and endeavoring to stop its progress, he was caught under the barrel, which passing over him badly crushed his left leg and severely bruised his left arm and shoulder.

DEATHS IN GEORGIA.

GRAFFORDVILLE, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—The death of Mrs. M. A. Askin, which occurred here last evening at a little past 8 o'clock, at the residence of her nephew, Mr. W. L. Gunn, will bring sadness to the hearts of many. This aged lady spent a long and useful life among our people, and when the call of the Master came she humbly and willingly submitted to His will.

LIGHTNING FREAKS.

Trees Struck and Burned to the Ground—The Danger to Life and Property.

LEARY, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Lightning played queer freaks Monday evening. It struck several trees in town during the rain in the afternoon, one of which was in the swamp just south of town, which was fired by the bolt, but did not break out till after supper. Being just beyond the stores from the residence portion of the town, it was taken for a store on fire, and the department was called out, only to return in disgust at not finding any fire to fight. Another large oak, just outside Marshall Walters' yard, was also struck. Mrs. Walters being severely shocked and knocked out of her chair. This was about 5 o'clock p. m., but not until 11 o'clock p. m. was it discovered that its tremendous trunk, filled with the driest combustible timber, was in a roaring blaze, endangering the kitchen with fire and threatening to come crashing down on some one of the surrounding buildings, in one of which Mr. and Mrs. Walters lay sound asleep. The tree was chopped down by a saw, and settled down into its normal state of quietude.

Another Hailstorm.

CUTBERT, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—There was an awful rain and hailstorm in Quitman county last Monday night. It was accompanied with strong wind. The limbs of large trees were torn loose like they were corn stalks, and fences were blown down considerably. The rain was thankfully received, but the wind and hail were greatly unwelcome. The corn was badly blown down in places. But it was certainly a season of long-looked-for and badly-needed rain.

A Dry Whirlwind.

ASTORCH, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A dry whirlwind formed near here last Tuesday afternoon that frightened the observers considerably. It was about as large as a hoghead and twisted off bushes and laid low fences in its track, going about a mile before it ceased.

Fire in Waycross.

WAYCROSS, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—The Satilla house, at Waycross, caught on fire at 7 o'clock p. m. The flames burst from the roof above the kitchen, enveloping the building. J. M. Hooding, proprietor, lost the entire furnishings and saved only a piano and a few pieces of furniture. Loss $1,000. Entirely covered with insurance. Captain H. T. Kennon, of Brunswick, owned the building, lost $3,000. The Wilson brick block had a narrow escape. Wilson's loss $600.

HE MAY BE WANTED.

The Man Arrested in Dougherty County Resembles a Florida Criminal.

ALBANY, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—The white man who was arrested on the Hickory level place in west Dougherty last Wednesday evening by Mr. H. H. Savage, is thought to be wanted in Florida. The man had been on the place for several days at work for one of the negro tenants on the place, when he decided that the general appearance of the fellow indicated that he was a fugitive from justice. Acting on the suggestion, Mr. Savage came to the city and secured a pair of handcuffs, and returning home, went out to the field where the man was at work, and before the fellow hardly had time to understand the situation a gleaming pistol barrel was in his breast, and the handcuffs were locked around his wrists.

HE DENIES IT NOW.

Miles Jordan Says That "Lover No. 2" Was Not Miss Layton's Suitor.

ALBANY, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mr. Miles Jordan, who was mentioned as one of the lovers of Miss Alice Layton, has written the following card to The News and Advertiser:

In regard to an article in Tuesday's News and Advertiser headed "Lover No. 2," I desire to say that No. 2 was never a suitor for the heart and hand of Miss Alice Layton, as you have stated. I was paid to go to the city to carry a note for her, and also one to her uncle, with whom she was stopping. Her brother, Mr. R. E. Layton, paid all the expenses of the trip.

A Bad Negro Caught.

CUMMING, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Bob Lewis, the black scoundrel who so unmercifully beat and shot old man David Carter, the ballist, over near Lawrenceville last Friday, is being held in the county jail. He was caught by Sheriff Strickland and Deputy N. T. Harris captured him last night four miles south of town.

He Didn't Obey Orders.

BURNA VISTA, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—While a citizen of this county was riding near Jerusalem, the other night, a man sprang from behind a bush and ordered him to halt. But his horse was frightened and dashed away. There is no doubt that the man's purpose was robbery.

They Egged Him Off.

NEWMAN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A patent medicine fakir opened up at the opera house recently, but, after vainly trying to inspire confidence in the efficacy of his nostrum, he folded his tent and vanished. The immediate cause of his abandonment, however, was a shower of decayed eggs, which fell with resounding copiousness for the space of five or ten minutes.

It Was a Practical Joke.

LEXINGTON, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A practical joke was played on one Mr. Simmons, a cigar drummer from Atlanta, in this place about two years ago in which he was made to believe he had been bitten by a snake. Mr. Simmons did not venture back until Tuesday last, and then came timidly to find that the boys remembered and was glad to see him.

Holding Court in Church.

BLUE RIDGE, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Judge G. H. Davidson held court in this week. He is using the Methodist church. This means that a new courthouse must be built and that the taxpayers must think where, when and how it must be built.

FREAKS IN CORN.

A Stalk from the Roots of Which Full Ears Were Grown.

THOMASTON, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mr. J. H. Hays was hoeing corn one day last week and found an infested stalk, when he found it was growing out from a corn cob. The cob was broken in two about the middle, and the roots of this stalk of corn had grown down through the cob about three inches and the top sprouted through about four inches of the cob and came out and had grown about a foot before being cut down.

Another freak was seen in a new variety of corn. This corn, instead of fruiting on the stalk, had the ears on its roots in the ground. From the joints of each root there grew an ear of corn, and there were seventeen ears to the stalk.

Oldest Farmer in the County.

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mr. J. E. Bryan, a solid old farmer of Berrien county, has been farming nearly forty-four years, and never bought corn but three times in his life. He is an old type, having worked at the case for eleven years. He is the good old type, however, to retire from the business, and this he did four years before the oldest man on The Times was born.

He Is a Hustler.

NEWMAN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Jacob Partridge, a colored tenant on Mr. F. B. Chandler's plantation, has a corn field measuring thirty-nine inches across, collards almost as large, and cotton squares in abundance. Jacob is evidently a hustler.

The Best Cotton.

BUENA VISTA, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mr. Evan Melton has the best cotton we have heard of in the county. He has ten acres which contained from six to ten squares a week ago, and looking at it prospectively it will hide the ground.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Spray of Pige, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasing to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effective in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Brain-workers keep your heads clear and bowels open. Take Simmons' Liver Regulator.

A NINE-DAY WONDER.

A BOY PREDICTS HIS ILLNESS, AND GOES INTO A TRANSÉ.

He Refuses the Aid of Physicians, and His Recovery Is Regarded as a Miracle. Curious Features of the Transé.

EUFULA, Ala., May 31.—[Special.]—News comes from Dothan of the remarkable sickness and recovery of Floyd Williams, a little boy whose death had been expected for some time. He grew conscious very suddenly last Saturday and created much excitement. Great crowds of people flocked there all day Sunday to behold the child. The writer witnessed the scene in person, which was, indeed, touching.

For nine days the little fellow lay in a transé, fasting neither food nor medicine. He absolutely refused to touch medicine, saying that God had made him sick, and God would restore him to health in His own time. The doctors were astonished, but watched the case with increasing interest.

When the child recovered from the transé he called his mother to his bedside and said: "God has told me that I will have to lie here four weeks longer. But I will take no medicine. I have seen many things in my transé, but cannot speak of all of them."

"The doctors do not know what is the matter with me; but it is God working in me." His predictions were verified to the letter.

The child has fully recovered, and, strange to repeat, all that transpired around him while he was in the transé.

His mother asked him if he knew of anything that happened during his sickness. He replied, "Yes, mother, and I am glad that I have been sick. I know a great deal more now than I did before."

He can repeat nearly everything that was said in his hearing during his sickness—the counsel of the physician and others who visited him.

GRiffin's PROSPECTS.

The Crops Will Be Good and Business Will Be Lively.

GRiffin, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Griffin has never seen a more prosperous season. The recent much-needed rains have revived the expectations of a good crop for an abundant crop, and then the fruit is plentiful, hence the summer trade will be better than we have had for several years. Our fruit growers are already making extensive preparations for shipping their fruit, and better facilities will be offered this season to any enjoyed heretofore. The Central of the Savannah, Griffin and North Alabama railroad, from here to Carrollton, and the Chattahoochee, Rome and Columbus, from Carrollton to Chattahoochee by the Central, gives Griffin a through route line to Chattanooga and a short route to the west. This will give Griffin a new impetus to any city in Georgia. These two lines will be turned over to the Central Monday, when through trains will be put on from Savannah to Griffin, with a change of engines and crew at Griffin. This will necessitate the removal of a number of families here and the building of a roundhouse and shops for the engines and cars that will lay over here. That this will increase the number of our inhabitants and the importance of Griffin is conclusive. Mr. Williamson, who will be general manager of the line from Griffin to Chattanooga, said Friday, that he intended handling all the watermelons from south Georgia over this line this summer. Here it is a settled fact, the Georgia Midland will build its line, from McDonough to Atlanta, by giving Griffin a through line to Atlanta, and such rates of freight as will build up in our midst several large wholesale houses. The survey and estimates of this extension having all been made, the road will certainly be built, and at once. Griffin has not waited for these things before she moved in the internal improvements, but for several years she has added to her wonderful resources until now, with her electric lights, shedding their brilliant rays in every nook and corner; her waterworks, with its pure, crystal showers, protecting us from fire and laying the dust of our streets; and her complete system of street railroads, bring the suburbs in close proximity to our business. Griffin challenges any city in Georgia to compete with her in progress and material advancement. There is not a vacant store or dwelling in the city, and new ones are being constantly erected. Vacant lots are in great demand, and handsome profits have been made in real estate trading in this kind of property in the last few months. Midway between Atlanta and Macon, Griffin is marching hand in hand with these two cities. The future of Griffin is bright, and the city in Georgia, and her development will be a wonder to the people in the next few years.

THE HOWARD CASE.

The Finding of the Dead Man Writes a Card.

COLUMBUS, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—The Howard-Dawson case is the topic of the town. The publication in full of the facts which the defense expects to prove by Mrs. G. Dawson, sister of the Howard, has created a considerable sensation. Major Dawson, father of the man who was killed, was in the city, and watched closely every point. He is determined in the future to have his rights protected, and he will leave nothing undone in a vigorous prosecution. He publishes a card to the public in which he says: "Adhering to the admonition of counsel, I am retired from replying in full or in detail to the showing and affidavits of the prisoners on their application for a continuance, but upon the trial before the court and jury of the country, the whole facts of the case will be brought out, and when it is, I have no fears of the entire vindication of the character of my murdered son, nor of my living children. I have always been ready and anxious to do what was right and willing and anxious for the true facts of the who affair to be brought to light."

A QUEER SIGHT.

A Waterpout That Extended from the Earth to the Clouds.

CRAWFORD, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A queer sight was witnessed Tuesday by a large number of our citizens. It was something in the clouds that looked like a waterpout. It appeared in a southern direction and seemed about as large as a four barrel in size and extended from the earth to the clouds above. It looked exactly like a stream of water pouring out of the clouds. We have been told that the thing resembled the geyser near Antioch and that the stream was not water but dust and trash that was drawn up towards the clouds. Nothing of the kind was ever seen about here before.

THE NEWS FROM ROME.

The Daily Enterprise to Begin This Week.

ROME, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Rome is to have an evening paper. It begins publication on June 8th. It will be called The Daily Enterprise and will be managed and edited by Mr. C. L. Frost, recent manager of The Tribune of Rome. Mr. Frank Hamilton Conoley will be the city editor. Advertising space is being rapidly secured for the paper will be daily, except Sunday.

Work in Franklin.

FRANKLIN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Franklin will possibly organize a building and loan association in a few days.

A New Military Company.

SMITHVILLE, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—There is a movement on foot to form a military company here. It will be known as "The Smithville Grays." The only trouble about it is every man in town wants to be captain.

A Mystery in Rocks.

BUCHANAN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mr. W. K. Keith found a solid oak stump, the center of the heart of a pine tree. How the rock got there is a mystery.

PRESTON'S HEAD-ACHE.

Keeps any headache coming back.

THE PRISONERS' CAVEM.

A Guard Steals a Female Prisoner and Klops.

CALHOUN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—After an exciting pursuit this afternoon, Sheriff N. H. McGinnis, of Gordon county, succeeded in capturing M. M. Bolden and his companion, Eliza Randall, both of whom left the Piedmont Broom Company's convict camp, near Bolton, Ga., on May 18th. The convict's representative visited the jail tonight and interviewed the prisoners. Bolden says that he has been guarding the convicts for the Piedmont Broom Company nearly five years, and that he had made some effort to get Eliza Randall, under life sentence, pardoned, and that failing he had decided to leave the camp and to give the woman her liberty. He said he thought she deserved to be released on account of her good qualities and kindness.

Eliza was under a life sentence for the murder of Joe Randall, her stepfather, in Bartow county, Georgia, some three years ago. She spoke of the murder, stating to your correspondent that she killed her stepfather with an ax. When captured she was dressed in men's clothing. Bolden was well armed, and when ordered to surrender, made some demonstration to use his pistol, but Sheriff McGinnis was equal to the emergency, and with a double-barreled gun got the drop on him, and he gave in.

The capture was made near Armstrong's landing, on the Oostanaula river, some four miles west of Calhoun, after an exciting chase through the country. Bolden and his companion had left the land and were floating down the river in a canoe, good-looking man, twenty-eight years of age, dark-complected, of medium size and of fair intelligence, and a native of Cobb county, Georgia. He told Sheriff McGinnis, when captured, that he dreaded the sheriff of Gordon county, lest he should be captured, as he passed through. A telegram was sent to the Piedmont company tonight informing them of the capture. Sheriff McGinnis is anticipating the reward offered.

A CURIOUS KITTEN.

It Was Born With Two Bodies and Seven Legs, but Could Not Survive.

THOMASTON, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Nat Hays, who is now living at Bright, Cullman county, Ala., tells his father, Mr. James H. Hays, and tells him of a monstrosity born at his house not long ago in the shape of a kitten. It had two bodies from the shoulder back and had seven legs in all. Four of these were well-formed hindlegs with feet, and two forelegs in the proper place, and one foreleg on his shoulder or back. It had two tails and two mouths—one of the mouths in the proper place, and the other at the top and bottom of its chin. Dr. Geiger has preserved it in alcohol.

DEATH OF A VALUABLE DOG.

That Kept an Invalid Lady Supplied With Fresh Meat.

GREENVILLE, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mrs. Williams lives near here, lost a valuable dog recently. This dog, which was a hound, would hunt rabbits in company with a terrier. When a rabbit was caught the terrier carried the game directly to the house. Mrs. Williams is an invalid, and the hindquarters of the rabbit is about all she has found that she relishes. These dogs have kept her well supplied the past spring, and the loss of one of them is a misfortune.

A Vegetable Freak.

LEXINGTON, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Quite a freak in the way of a vegetable was grown in the garden of Mrs. Boone. It is a double radish, or rather two radishes, growing under one top. One is red and the other white, both distinctly formed, the white being below the red, the two connected at a stem a half inch long. It is certainly a rare freak, and has excited the curiosity of all who have seen it.

Killed by a Mad Dog's Bite.

BUCHANAN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A few days ago Mr. J. W. Holland's mare was bitten by a mad dog. The mare died the next day. The dog then made an attack on Mr. Holland, but he managed to escape and dispatched the canine before he could bite him.

A Curious Fish.

EASTMAN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Mr. J. K. Lancaster caught a fish last week of the "Warmouth" variety that was 14 inches long, 12 inches wide and 4 inches across the back; and it wasn't a very fine day for fish, either.

Roy's Kill a Beaver.

OMAHA, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A couple of negro boys, while bathing in the creek Saturday, saw a beaver go into his den. One of them crawled in after him, and pulled him out by the tail and killed him.

A Big Black Fish.

VALDOSTA, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A selling party at Swannocree report catching a black fish which measured nearly three feet in length. It had thirteen broken fish hooks in its mouth.

A Mad Dog's Capers.

BUENA VISTA, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—A mad dog created considerable excitement in this town a few days ago. He bit a number of dogs, and cases of rabies are developing rapidly.

Hurrah for Tifton.

TIFTON, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—Tifton has the honor of shipping the first melon of the season from this section. It was grown on the farm of Captain C. A. Williams.

Raised the Quarantine.

SHELLMAN, Ga., May 31.—[Special.]—The town council here has raised the quarantine line in Dawson and Terrell counties. The Dawson News will doubtless celebrate the great event.

Creates An Appetite

There is nothing for which we recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla with greater confidence than for loss of appetite, indigestion, sick headache and other troubles of dyspeptic nature. In the most natural way this medicine gently tones the stomach, assists digestion, and makes you feel "real hungry." Ladies in delicate health, or very dainty and particular at meals, after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a few days, find themselves longing for and eating the plainest food with unfeigned relish and satisfaction. Try it.

Liver Difficulty.

"I have been suffering more or less with dyspepsia and liver difficulty for a long time. Being handed one of Hood's Sarsaparilla pamphlets, I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills, and am now in better health than I have been for twenty years. I can safely recommend the medicine." G. G. JAMES, Winona, Minn.

MUSICAL MATTERS.

SONS OF INTEREST FOR THE NEAR FUTURE.

Mr. Rehm's Pupils' Piano Recital—Mr. O'Donnell's Recital to the Graduating Classes—Atlanta Musicians.

The organ recital to be given by Mr. J. P. O'Donnell, complimentary to the graduating class of the Girls' High School, on Tuesday evening, June 24, at the First Baptist church, will be the musical event of the week. Mr. O'Donnell has prepared a programme of a charming character, musically, for the occasion, and will be assisted by Mrs. Anna Simon Werner, soprano; Mr. William Owens, tenor; Mr. Eugene Hardeman, baritone; Mr. W. G. Abel, Mr. Henry Kuhn, Mr. Sam Hurst, and Wurm's orchestra of twenty pieces.

The musical ability of each and every one who is to take part in the recital is well known, so that those who have the pleasure to attend will enjoy the entertainment to the fullest extent. The public is cordially invited. There will be no admissions issued. The young ladies of the graduating classes will have special seats reserved for them.

The programme for the evening is as follows:

PART I.

1. Overture—"Pique Dame."—Suppe. Wurm's orchestra.
2. Sonata—Allegro—Fuga Chromatica—Rheinberger. Mr. O'Donnell.
3. Male Quartet—The Angel Came.—Cowan. Madame Anna Simon Werner.
4. Baritone Solo—"Consume Them All"—From St. Paul—Mendelssohn. Mr. Eugene Hardeman.
5. Soprano Solo—Requiem and Prayer, from El-Costa. Madame Anna Simon Werner.

PART II.

6. Selection—"Trovatore"—Verdi. Wurm's orchestra.
7. Tenor Solo—"The Soft Southern Breeze," from Rebeckah—Haraby. Mr. William Owens.
8. Soprano Solo—"The Angel Came"—Cowan. Madame Anna Simon Werner.
9. Organ Solo—Thorus of Angels.—Clark. Garette from Mignon. Thomas. "Home, Sweet Home"—(By request)—Dudley Buck. Mr. O'Donnell.

Atlanta Musicians at Macon.

Mrs. Anna Simon Werner, Mr. William Owens and Mr. J. P. O'Donnell will visit Macon during this week to take part in the concert to be given next Thursday evening by the Macon Musical Association.

In securing the services of Mr. Werner and Mr. Owens as soloists the society will add great strength to their programme. Mr. O'Donnell having kindly consented to play the accompaniments, it goes for saying that this alone will be a pleasing feature of the concert. Mrs. Werner, since her residence in Atlanta, has occupied the position of organist at the First Baptist church, and is well known to the public as a pure soprano voice of rare beauty, and being thoroughly imbued with every feeling that goes to make up a great musician, her appearances in public or private concerts in Atlanta have been the object of the greatest pleasure to all who have had the pleasure of listening to her.

The organ solo, the favorite pupil of the late Dr. Danforth, of New York, under whom she appeared as the soprano soloist in the oratorio of Samson, under the auspices of the Philharmonic Society of that city.

She also had the advantage of study under the justly celebrated vocal teacher, Edward. We have not the least doubt but that her singing at the concert on Thursday at Macon, will be listened to with the highest approval.

Mr. William Owens has our best wishes for his success in this his first visit to Macon. He is the possessor of a voice of great purity and sweetness, and his singing is at all times highly appreciated, and we have no doubt that the audience will give him a cordial welcome.

The opera house was crowded last Wednesday evening to its fullest extent, and the critical audience present fully appreciated the high quality of the performance given by Miss Emma Hahr, Mr. Natorp Blumenthal and assistants.

The programme, as given, was replete with gems, both vocal and instrumental. Miss Hahr was at her best, and played her various numbers in the most artistic manner. A pianist who can play the way she did the difficult compositions of Beethoven, Rubenstein, Liszt, and the highest compositions of the great masters, is a rare find. In the "Valse Caprice" of Chopin, Miss Hahr played with a true feeling, and her playing was beyond all question that of a consummate artist. Her playing was characterized by precision and clearness of tone, and her playing was beyond all question that of a consummate artist.

CORINNE DROPPED DEAD.

The Sudden Death of a Valuable Trotting Mare.

A $5,000 trotting mare dropped dead of heart disease on the race track at the Piedmont exposition grounds yesterday morning about 9 o'clock.

The mare was "Corinne," a four-year-old, owned by a Kentucky gentleman, and was being trained on the Piedmont track by Mr. J. L. Wells, who has the care of nine other valuable racers.

"Corinne" was an especially fine mare, and had a record at three years old of 2:31. Mr. Wells was confident that she would make a mile in 2:16 as a four-year-old. She was sired by Mambrino Stair, one of Robert Hunter's horses, and her dam was Kate White, owned by R. S. Sells.

She was booked for a number of races this season and her death is greatly regretted by her trainer who was much attached to her. Yesterday morning Mr. Wells took the mare out for a jog. She was perfectly well and apparently sound. She had gone about three miles and a half and Mr. Wells pulled her up to a walk and started to turn round when she fell and expired with unmistakable evidence of heart disease. In falling she turned Mr. Wells a somersault but he was not injured by a bruise or two. The trainer took off the mare's harness and that was all that was left of the $5,000 mare.

Mr. Wells will leave Atlanta with the other horses about the 10th of the month.

BABY LIONS AT THE PARK.

The Mexican Lioness Has Two Pretty Babies.

Attention, little folks! There are two baby lions at the Grass zoo at Grant park.

Last Sunday the Mexican lioness gave birth to two baby lions, and the mother and babies were promptly hidden from the public gaze by having their cage enclosed with boards.

The arrival of the little fellows was kept a profound secret, as it was not known that they would live. Yesterday a Coxsey rummy man, who can see through an inch plank, discovered the presence of the young lions and was allowed to peep in at a crack and see them at dinner. They are pretty little things, very much like their mother, with black and yellow spots over their bodies.

It is said to be exceedingly difficult to raise Mexican lions, but the authorities at the zoo are hopeful that these will pass safely through the illis that usually beset the babyhood of a lion.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CELEBRATION.

The Twenty-fifth Annual Celebration of the Fulton County Sunday School Association.

The twenty-fifth annual celebration of the Fulton County Sunday School Association will occur on the 18th of this month.

The celebration will take place at Piedmont park.

EVEN A LOAF OF BREAD.

COULD NOT BE BOUGHT IN ATLANTA YESTERDAY.

The Sunday law goes into effect and is rigidly enforced—The People Do Not Like It, But Must Stand It.

The Sunday law was strictly enforced yesterday. No cigars, cigarettes or tobacco were sold in the city.

Smokers who had not purchased a stock the day before had one day of abstinence or borrowed from friends.

This seemed to be the most inconvenient class in the city.

Lovers of cold drinks were all right, and had their usual privilege of indulging in soda water and milk shakes.

According to the Sunday ordinance a soda water can only be sold in places having a right to keep open on Sunday, such as drug stores or restaurants.

Beer and Silverman, who do a big business in the soda water line, opened up last yesterday morning. Not being in a drug store or a restaurant, the firm was notified and the doors closed.

Before noon, however, they produced a restaurant license and were allowed to reopen. The officers at the police station say the license was issued yesterday, and today the matter will be placed in the hands of the city attorney to see if the firm had the right to sell soda water.

The city attorney will give his opinion as to whether under a restaurant license they had a right to keep open, when there in reality was no restaurant department; and by this opinion the officers will be governed as to whether a case will be made or not.

Mr. Silverman states that the license was procured Saturday afternoon. He adds that the restaurant part will be run. The license bore the date of May 30th.

Several other cases were made yesterday, all against negroes for keeping open doors on Sunday.

There was no switching of cars except in making up passenger trains and moving perishable freight.
